

organizations. He has spoken internationally on disclosure and corporate governance and has contributed to professional and college level publications. Currently, he is a member of the Joint Task Force on Corporate Issuers and Analyst Relations formed by the Association for Investment Management and Research (AIMR) and the National Investor Relations Institute (NIRI). He is a former NIRI board member and is a current member of its Senior Round Table.

Harry A. (Hud) Englehart (Chicago) brings 34 years of top-level agency and corporate experience to clients. He has spent more than two decades as a leading agency practitioner, principally at Hill and Knowlton. He has successfully managed major projects in the airline, financial services, food, consumer products, gaming and biotech industries. He has also held the top corporate positions with Lockheed and Mellon Bank. His current firm, Englehart & Associates, has an active roster of clients in financial communication, brand development, labor relations, public affairs and crisis communication. Englehart teaches crisis management in the graduate school at Northwestern University.

Timothy J. Croasdaile (Denver) is an expert in brand positioning, corporate communication and investor relations. With over 30 years of experience, he has held senior positions at Fortune 500 companies including, Bell & Howell, Gerber Products and Johns Manville. Croasdaile is a frequent speaker and has taught investor relations in the graduate school at Northwestern University. Tim has served in numerous leadership positions in professional societies for investor relations and communication professionals. He is a member of The Arthur W. Page Society, the Senior Roundtable of the National Investor Relations Institute (NIRI) and the editorial board of Investor Relations Quarterly. Croasdaile is a past board member of NIRI.

Ralph D. Allen (New York) is an accomplished corporate communicator with nearly 40 years of broad industry experience. He has held the top investor relations and communication officer positions at ITT Industries, ITT, Inc. and at Eastman Kodak. His work has involved successful takeover defense, unsolicited acquisitions, IPOs, shareholder distributions, large share repurchase, split ups, and major corporate repositioning with acknowledged results. He is a past Board member of NIRI, and he remains a member of the NIRI Senior Roundtable where he served on the steering committee. Allen works in NYC and has lectured on investor relations at major universities and he has served on numerous boards, task forces and committees for major professional investor and communication organizations.

Beacon Advisors
180 North LaSalle Street, Suite 1415
Chicago, Illinois 60601
p: (312) 629-9309
f: (312) 629-9500
www.beaconadvisors.us